

Memorial Meeting of Bar Association Is Largely Attended

Resolutions of Respect In Honor of Thomas Holt Murray Presented Many Able Addresses Heard

RESPECT AND HONOR FOR FINE LAWYER

The memorial meeting of the Clearfield County Bar Association incident to the death of Thomas Holt Murray, Esq., for more than thirty years the leader of this Bar was called to order in the court room at 11 o'clock by Judge Singleton Bell, who briefly stated the purpose of the assemblage.

Ex-Judge Allison O. Smith, chairman of the Committee then arose and after paying a touching personal tribute to his former law partner and friend, read the following memorial:

To the Honorable Singleton Bell, President Judge of said Court:

Your committee appointed to prepare a suitable memorial on the death of Thomas Holt Murray, a member of the Bar, beg leave to report:

Thomas Holt Murray was born on the 5th day of April, 1846 in Girard township, Clearfield county, and died on the 8th day of December, 1916 at three o'clock in the afternoon at his late residence in the borough of Clearfield.

His early life was spent on his father's farm, where he labored as did most farmers' sons of the time, on the farm and in the neighboring forest. His early education was limited to such as he could secure in the common schools of his native township. In 1863 at the age of seventeen, he entered Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport, Pa. Soon thereafter he was compelled to leave that institution on account of illness. After his return to his home he engaged in the work of the farm, in the lumber woods, and in teaching school in the common schools of his native township until the year 1864 when he re-entered Dickinson Seminary. From that institution he was graduated in the year 1877.

During his course of study at the Seminary, Mr. Murray became a student at law under the direction of General Robert Fleming of the I. J. coming county bar. In the month of May, 1880, Mr. Murray entered the law office of the late Honorable H. B. Swoope, at Clearfield, where he completed his legal education. He was admitted to the bar of Clearfield county May 24, 1880.

For some years after Mr. Murray's admission to the bar he practiced law by himself. But in a few years his growing business led him to seek a partner. Accordingly in September 1874, he associated with him the late Hon. Cyrus Gordon, under the firm name of Murray and Gordon. This partnership continued until the election of Mr. Gordon to the bench in this county and his entering upon the duties of that office in January 1894. Immediately thereafter, Mr. Murray entered into a new partnership with Allison O. Smith under the firm name of Murray and Smith. This partnership continued until during the incumbency of Mr. Smith for President Judge of the courts of Clearfield county in 1903. After the retirement of Mr. Smith, Mr. Murray formed a partnership with James P. O'Laughlin and Hazard A. Murray under the firm name of Murray and O'Laughlin. This partnership was formed September 22, 1903 and continued until the death of Thomas Holt Murray, its senior member. Some years prior to his death Mr. Murray withdrew from the trial of cases, and the more active duties connected with his profession, but continued, as his failing health permitted, to act in an advisory capacity in the firm with which he was connected.

Immediately upon his admission to the bar, Mr. Murray entered actively upon the practice of his profession. His native ability, untiring industry, and great force of character soon made his place at the bar secure, and brought to him a large and growing business. At the time of his retirement from active practice, he was and for many years prior thereto had been the unquestioned leader of this bar. His qualities and attainments as a lawyer early brought to Mr. Murray professional engagements from outside of his home county, and soon he became known throughout central and western Pennsylvania and even beyond as a lawyer of consum-mate skill and commanding ability.

Coming to the bar as he did in the days when much of the litigation in his own and neighboring counties concerned original titles to land, Mr. Murray soon acquired a skill and proficiency in the trial of ejectment cases that led to his employment in most of the larger litigation involving original titles, not only in his own county, but throughout central and northwestern Pennsylvania. He was one of the last of the great ejectment lawyers of Pennsylvania. In the forty years in which Mr. Murray was active in his profession, his experiences covered the wide range of legal business which is afforded by a country practice. He was not a specialist, and yet he was an expert in almost every department of the law. His broad, comprehensive grasp of mind, his untiring industry, his patient care, his vigorous will, his cogent reasoning, coupled with a mastery of the English language which at times made his addresses to a jury rise to the heights of real eloquence, combined to make him a leader in all departments of legal practice alike. In our appellate courts, in the United States courts, in the courts of other counties, or in our own courts, whether in a close legal argument or in a summing up before the ordinary county jury, Mr. Murray immediately attracted attention, commanded respect, and not infrequently dominated courts or courts and juries.

Mr. Murray was a public spirited citizen. He took great interest in the subject of education and many of his finest public addresses were upon educational subjects. He was the last surviving member of the school board of his home town which was in existence when our system of graded schools was established. He disliked politics as such and cared nothing for public office. Notwithstanding the great demands of his professional engagements, he early sought the lecture platform and his lectures upon educational, patriotic and religious subjects soon gained for him a reputation for learning and eloquence which extended beyond the confines of our state.

While a student of Dickinson Seminary, Mr. Murray joined the Methodist Episcopal church and from that time to the day of his death was a consistent member of that church. When he came to Clearfield in May, 1868, he became a member of the Clearfield (now Trinity) Methodist Episcopal church. In the church as in his profession he was soon recognized as a leader. In 1876 he was elected a Trustee of his church, and continued to hold that important church office to the day of his death. In 1878 he was made chairman of the Board of Trustees and held that position until 1910 when the state of his health led to his voluntary resignation. Upon joining the church he became a member of the Sunday School and was at the time of his death the oldest member of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Sunday school in point of continuous membership. In January, 1874, Mr. Murray organized the Bible Class which bears his name, and was the teacher of that Bible Class until his death.

The church of his choice has singularly honored Mr. Murray. In 1884 he was elected a lay delegate to the General conference of the church and was re-elected each quadrennium thereafter, down to and including the year 1916. He was, therefore, a member of nine successive general conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church—a record unequalled by any layman in American Methodism. In 1896 he was elected by the General Conference a member of the Commission on Federation of the Methodist Episcopal churches, north and south. The importance of that position can be realized when it is stated that the membership of that commission on the part of the Methodist Episcopal church was composed of three bishops of the church, three ministers and three laymen. Mr. Murray served on that commission for twelve years.

MAKES ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL BUT FAILS

Willis Brandon Will Now Face the Sentence of the Court On Two Charges

WAS CAUGHT IN THE ACT

Willis Brandon, of Chester Hill, who has gained more or less of a police and criminal court record during his twenty odd years of life, was halde before Judge Milligan today on a charge of attempted jail breaking preferred by Sheriff Ira C. McCloskey. Brandon and his brother were sentenced to three months in jail last Spring and when their cell was examined after their release it was found that they had been engaged in attempt to dig a hole in the wall with the idea of making their escape before their time was up.

On November 28th Willis Brandon and a Philadelphia colored man named Brant, it is alleged went up to the barn of Mike Kowalski at West Moshannon and abstracted therefrom a perfectly good halter to which was attached Mike's prize Holstein Milch cow. The halter was taken to the barn of Brandon's sister, Miss Luella Brandon, in Chester Hill, the cow going quickly with it.

On arrival there the sow was sacrificed on the altar of the high cost of living, part of the resultant beef being taken to the house and the remainder hidden under the barn floor.

When Kowalski discovered the loss of his milker he started on a gum shoe hunt for the thief or thieves. A peculiarity in the shape of the cow's hoof due to lack of proper and necessary manuring led Mike to follow her footsteps to the Brandon barn more than ten miles distant.

The cow had been butchered before the owner arrived but a part of the halter was found where Mike entered the barn. Squire Finnigan was appealed to and issuing a search warrant had the premises searched, when the remains were discovered and a warrant issued for Brandon, Brant and Luella Brandon.

Brant gave bail for his appearance at Court but the Brandons were lodged in jail.

In view of his previous action a close watch was kept on Brandon, and as a result he was caught on Friday afternoon last in digging a hole through the wall of his cell into the woman's ward with the evident expectation of making his way to liberty from there.

He was promptly transferred to another cell and the information charging jail breaking made and he will consequently be called upon to face two penitentiary charges instead of one when the next term of Criminal Court arrives.

LYDD GEORGE ILL.

London, Dec. 11.—By United Press)—Lloyd George suffered a severe chill today probably resulting from his superhuman efforts to reconstruct the government, and his physicians have ordered him not to leave his home. He wrote a letter to members of parliament telling them that he thought it hardly likely that he would be able to attend tomorrow's session. At that time the new members will formally take their place. The Premiers have been received at Buckingham Palace by King George.

One Electrocuted; Other Gets Respite

O'Brien, Friend he Killed Seven Years Old Boy Pays Penalty

Rockview, Dec. 11.—Junius Brutus Alston, of Chester County, sat safe in his cell today while Joseph W. O'Brien of Montgomery county, went to his death on the day originally appointed for both to die. O'Brien was shocked to death early today at the penitentiary.

Alston, a negro from South Carolina had been in Pennsylvania only a few months when he killed William Brown another negro, in Chester county during a quarrel last year. He was refused pardon last month, but a petition was filed with their Board of Pardons for a re-hearing so that the views of the trial judge, William Butler Jr., might be considered by the board. This led to a respite.

O'Brien was executed for the murder of 7-year-old Israel Goldman, of Philadelphia three years ago. He took the lad across the Montgomery county line and killed him without provocation, so far as evidence shows.

Methodist Want Fine Sermon Repeated

Publicly Requests That Dr. Bender Preach Series over Again

Rev. Dr. Bender pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, preached a most interesting sermon yesterday morning from Revelation, second chapter: John's letter to the church at Ephesus. Some time ago Dr. Bender preached a series of sermons, taking for his subjects, John's letters to the churches in Asia Minor, taking his texts from the first four chapters of Revelation.

Owing to the fact that the Sunday School lessons for the last three months have dealt with the life, missionary tours and the death of Saint Paul that the present Sunday school lessons deal with the letters of Saint John to the churches of Asia Minor, these sermons at this time are both timely and interesting. Because of this quite a number of Doctor Bender's congregation have requested him to repeat the series of sermons referred to. It is hoped that the Doctor will repeat the sermons.

HOUTZDALE MAN DIES SUDDENLY ON SUNDAY

D. E. Chaplin, Well Known Business Man, With Many Friends in County

WAS MAN OF FINE PHYSIQUE

D. E. Chaplin, a representative Houtzdale business man, died at the Clearfield hospital Sunday morning at 10:20 o'clock after a brief illness aged about 55 years.

Ed Chaplin was one of the best known men in the Houtzdale region and his death brought genuine sorrow to an exceptionally large circle of friends. He was a native of Canada and came to Janesville with his family while quite young. His mother was a daughter of the late John Flynn, the pioneer of the Flynn family of lumbermen which settled in Clearfield County when the lumber industry was in its infancy.

In early life the deceased followed farming and lumbering, later taking a business course at Baltimore. On his completing the course he returned home and accepted a clerkship with the Eureka Supply Company. By his honesty, integrity and strict attention to business attained success and was soon made manager of the company's store at Fisher's near Brishin. A few years later he was advanced to the position of manager of the company's store at Ramey, which position he held until 1906 when he purchased the Frank Schlatzer distillery and moved to Houtzdale where he had since made his home.

He was a square, upright man generous to a fault, and intensely loyal to his friends. He was at the front in all movements for the betterment and upbuilding of his town and his death will be a distinct loss to that community.

About nineteen years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Catherine Gleason, eldest daughter of the late Andrew Gleason, one of the pioneer merchants of Houtzdale and to this union eight children were born six of whom with their mother survive to mourn the loss of a loving and indulgent husband and father.

The deceased was a splendid specimen of physical manhood, but almost five years ago suffered a severe attack of pleurisy and pneumonia, lying at death's door for a considerable length of time. His iron constitution pulled him through but he never fully recovered his usual health and when he suffered a second attack of pneumonia last week his condition became serious at once and he was removed to the Clearfield Hospital Wednesday. Despite the best of medical attention the ravages of the disease were unchecked and his death occurred as above stated.

The funeral will be held from St. Laurence's Catholic church at Houtzdale Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and interment will be made in the Flynn at Janesville.

Villa Gives Reporter His Views On The U. S. In Interview

Makes Terse and Amazing Statements As to His Personal Opinion of Men And His Ultimate Aims and Desires

ACCUSES WILSON, PERSHING AND FUNSTON

New York, Dec. 11.—(By United Press)—"I am going to drive the Americans out of Mexico or I make them fight." This is the declaration of Pancho Villa as reported in an interview printed by the New York "Evening World" today.

Thorkey Flood Mortensen, the interviewer says he went to Villa's headquarters at Vintalu the second day of the campaign of the city of Chihuahua.

"Do you know the Mayor of El Paso," Villa asked. "Do you know what he did? Chased my wife out of the country like a common woman of the streets and took her diamonds and rings away from her. Tell that fellow that if he was a man he would come down and fight with me."

"Do you know Pershing? Pershing is violating the sacred rights of Mexico and has got to get out. I will show them poco tiempo that they cannot violate Mexican rights."

"Do you know Wilson? I was his friend, I liked him but at Aguprietia he turned traitor to me because I represented and helped Carranza—the bad man of Mexico. Is it any wonder that I chase the Americans out of Mexico?"

Asked what he intended to do he replied: "Drive them out or make them fight and after they are gone I will make a gap between the two countries so wide and deep that no Americans will ever be able to steal Mexican land, gold and oil."

The Views Of A Soldier

The following letter was received in our mail this morning. The editorial referred to in the letter was the one condemning the limitations placed upon soldiers in the matter of speech and writing. It is not to be supposed that each soldier should know the plan of his superior or the reason for his being at any particular place but that right of free speech and expression should not be abridged.

Camp Stewart, December 5, 1916.

Managing Editor, Clearfield, Progress:

Dear Sir:

I just received your issue of the 29th and was very much interested in your editorial regarding letters which you have accepted from boys on the border. My object in writing to you is to give you some idea of conditions as they exist here.

Among the enlisted men there is a deep feeling of dissatisfaction. We feel that we were brought down here thru a misrepresentation of border conditions and after five months stay we can see no reason for our detention other than political. It is an uncalled for hardship to keep thousands of men away from their families and work and cause them to be subjected to the physical discomforts of these sand swept deserts. In the past the men have not complained although conditions have been far from good, but now with the prospect of being separated from their homes at Xmas time and later being brought back in the midst of winter, it is no wonder that they are anxious to return.

It is not my purpose to knock but merely to confirm reports of the very unsatisfactory conditions that exist here.

Here is a typical border condition: El Paso, with a population of 80,000 had a hard time raising one company (80) of militia, but the other 79,935 are now having the time of their lives relieving the soldiers of $1,500,000 a month. That may be one reason the 1st regiment of S. C. infantry decorated their trains on their return home with: "We will go to hell before we will go back to El Paso."

P. S. If you publish this letter do me the favor of keeping my name secret for I have no desire to do time in the grand house on bread and water.

Japan Has Crow to Pick With U. S. At The Cessation of War

Baron Sakatani Announces That Immigration Will Be Taken Up At That Time.

By Ralph H. Turner (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Tokio, Dec. 11.—Japanese approval is given here today to the statement made in America by Baron Sakatani that after the war Japan would attempt to bring about a settlement of her immigration problem with the United States.

While the Japanese have never voiced the desire to break the Gentlemen's Agreement, they feel that it is a most unsatisfactory arrangement. With the rise of Japan's power and her world commerce, the sentiment that the American ruling is discriminatory becomes stronger. The belief that a revival of the question is inevitable is expressed by the Tokio Asahi, regarded by some persons as the leading newspaper in the capital.

"Baron Sakatani only voiced the sentiment of the Japanese nation," says the Asahi in speaking of the Baron's declaration in the United States. "Why should the Japanese

In 1900 the General conference elected Mr. Murray, one of the delegates to the Ecumenical council, composed of all branches of Methodism, worldwide. That council met in London in September, 1901, and Mr. Murray took a leading part in the deliberations of that body. His church affiliation and connection with the great conventions of Methodism, brought to Mr. Murray a wide acquaintance, and the knowledge of his death will bring regret and sorrow to many in every part of our country. In church life and work, as in his profession, he was everywhere and at all times recognized as a leader of men.

Such in part, briefly and imperfectly presented, is the record of our brother.

In his death this bar has lost its most distinguished member; the community and state, a citizen keenly alert to its best interests, and willing to stand at all hazards, and at any sacrifice for the right as he saw the right, and the church a leader in its councils and a member who brought no reproach upon the cause of the Master whom he worshipped.

As a mark of appreciation of this distinguished lawyer, citizen and churchman, be it

Resolved, That this bar attend his funeral in a body.

R. H. WOODWARD

At the conclusion of Judge Smith's reading R. D. Swoope, Esq., arose and spoke feelingly of his association with the deceased and paid high tribute to his ability as a lawyer.

A. H. Woodward, Esq., followed with a particularly eloquent tribute to Mr. Murray's memory, and he was followed by a long-time friend, Hon. Thos. H. Greevey, of Altoona, who was present to represent the Blair County Bar. W. C. Pentz of the local bar followed and he was followed in turn by Judge Mitchell and N. M. Edwards, of Lycoming county.

Ex-Judge Ellis L. Orvis, of Bellefonte, who with W. Harrison Walker, Esq., represented the Centre county Bar then paid his individual tribute to the man whom he styled "one of the really great lawyers of Central Pennsylvania," and then read the following resolutions, adopted by the Centre County Bar Association at a meeting held Saturday morning following the receipt of the news of Mr. Murray's death:

Resolutions of the Bar of Centre County upon the death of the Honorable Thomas H. Murray, adopted at a meeting held Saturday, December 9th 1916.

WHEREAS, the members of the bar of Centre County have just been informed of the death of that distinguished citizen and lawyer of Clearfield county, Pennsylvania, the Honorable Thomas H. Murray;

AND WHEREAS, a meeting of the said bar was immediately called for the purpose of giving expression to the grief of their sympathies and the grief of their brethren of the Clearfield county bar and the members of Mr. Murray's family;

AND WHEREAS, there Resolutions were presented by the undersigned, a committee appointed for that purpose, and were thereupon unanimously adopted.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that we desire to record our appreciation of Thomas H. Murray as a lawyer of State-wide reputation and of the highest attainments in his profession, a position which he has achieved both by reason of great natural gifts and by his mastery, through tireless study and work, both of the elementary principles of law and the reported decisions of our courts.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that we recognize in the death of Mr. Murray that the County and State have lost a citizen of the highest personal character, whose life was controlled by the principles of honor,

Flow Up, Up High In the Air.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

HOW THUMBELISA FLEW FAR AWAY.

THE minute Jack and Evelyn finished their bread and jelly daddy began: "There was once a sick swallow who was nursed back to joy by Thumbelisa, a tiny girl. So when a stupid old mole wanted her to marry him along came her friend, the swallow, and invited her to fly away on his back."

"Tie yourself on securely with your sash," he reminded Thumbelisa. "We may go quite swiftly. We'll fly away from your ugly old mole and his dark cavern, far away over the mountains to the warm countries where the sun shines with more splendor than it does in this cornfield. It is always summer there, and there are heaps of flowers for you to pick. Come, little Thumbelisa, fly with me. Once you saved my life when I lay half dead in a dark passageway, and now I will save you!"

"Oh, dear swallow," cried Thumbelisa; "now I will go with you!"

"So she sat down on the swallow's back with her tiny feet on its outspread wings. To its strongest feather she tied one end of her sash and the other around her own waist."

"Good!" cried the children.

"Then her swallow flew up, up high in the air above the forests and lakes, high up above the biggest mountains where the snow never melts."

"Thumbelisa, shivered in the cold air, but then she crept under her swallow's warm feathers. She only stuck out her small head to look at the wonderful and beautiful sights that kept flashing below her."

"So at last they reached the warm countries. The sun shone with a warmer glow there. The skies were twice as high, and the most beautiful green and blue grapes grew on all the banks and hedgerows. Oranges and lemons hung in the woods, which were fragrant with myrtle and sweet herbs, and everywhere lovely children with dark, rich skins ran about happily, chasing big, gorgeously colored butterflies."

"More fairies!" said Jack.

"Still Thumbelisa's swallow flew on, and always the country grew more and more beautiful. Under splendid green trees on the shores of the blue sea stood a dazzling white marble palace. It had been built hundreds of years ago, and vines wreathed around its old pillars. At the head of these were countless birds' nests, and Thumbelisa's swallow had its home in one of them."

Then daddy stopped, and when the children clapped for him to please not end the bedtime story he gave them two big good night hugs.

So Jack and Evelyn clapped him.

justice and right, a leader in the work of high church, and invariably identified with all movements looking to the welfare and moral uplift of the community.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that these resolutions be recorded upon the minutes of the Bar Association of Centre County and among the records of this court, and that, if practicable, they be presented at a meeting of the Bar Association of Clearfield County, and that a copy thereof be delivered to the members of Mr. Murray's family.

James A. Gleason, Esq., read a letter eulogizing Mr. Murray from the pen of William H. Patterson, Esq., who is at Mt. Clemens, Mich., for his health, and following this with a touching personal tribute to the deceased. Hon. J. Frank Snyder was the last speaker. Mr. Snyder possessed the acquaintance and friendship of Mr. Murray during his entire life at the Bar and eloquently recounted the history of the struggling young lawyer as he climbed the ladder of a successful practice and wrote his name in flaming letters as the leader of his profession in Central Pennsylvania, a shining light in the church of his faith and a model high minded citizen in this community.

Judge Bell in a few well chosen sentences closed the meeting with an order directing that the proceedings of the session be spread upon the court records of the county.

The funeral of Mr. Murray took place at 2 o'clock from Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a lifelong member. The services were conducted by his pastor Rev. Dr. H. R. Bender.

The large edifice was filled to capacity by the friends and neighbors of our late distinguished fellow citizen.

The pall bearers were Hon. Singleton Bell, Hon. Allison O. Smith, R. D. Swoope, Esq., J. Frank Snyder, Esq., A. H. Woodward, Esq., and H. B. Hartswick, Esq.

A special train over the Pennsylvania railroad from Tyrone brought many out of town people to the funeral.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seven years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the most brilliant results.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins, thus cleansing sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of the limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make any one who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

An Open Letter to Teachers

A teacher in the public schools has a wonderful opportunity to mould the character of the children and young people. Teachers believe in temperance and teach it scientifically, not simply because it is the law, but because they want to help the child and are desirous of having their influence tell for good. I am writing to you because I believe you can be interested in the medal contest, work, a department of the State and National W. C. T. U. You have bright active boys and girls under your charge, who will be delighted to take part in these contests.

You may have the material for a future orator in your school, but this talent will lie dormant unless it is given a chance to develop.

Will you give them this opportunity? Teachers who have taken up the work, say that they have found it very beneficial.

It strengthens the memory, overcomes timidity, improves the public appearance, gives poise and grace to the bearing, and as one must thoroughly understand a subject before he can properly declaim it, his reasoning powers are brought into play, and the whole mentality is strengthened. But, aside from all this, in the selections prepared for this particular purpose, he is gradually growing to hate the saloon and its evil influences. We quote the following from a state superintendent of education:

"I desire to heartily endorse the plan of medal contests; which has been established by the W. C. T. U. I cannot see how the plan could possibly be a detriment to school work, but can see where great good could come, not only to the pupils in the public schools, and those taking part in these contests, but in cultivating a sentiment in favor of temperance."

Will you help us in this educational work?

The offering at the Opera House,

with its wealth of song, mirth, melody, happiness and joy. The music and lyrics are by Arthur Gillespie and

the music by Aubrey Stauffer, two young men who fairly outdid themselves in this successful musical play

for there are no less than six emphatic song hits. The title chosen from the famous painting by Paul Chabas

serves its purpose in the story only

and this novel entertainment will prove a treat to theatregoers.

The story has to do with one Rudolph Plastic, amusequading as an artist and sets claim to the originator

of the famous painting. Complications arise wherein Plastic gets himself into all sorts of trouble through the appearance of an actress, who claims to be the originator and actually was the lady who bathed in the open. There are a dozen principals

and the show goes with a hurrah, from the rise of the curtain. The leading comedy role is in the hands of Nimble William Moore, who has played in many Broadway successes

supported by an excellent cast and a

sprightly singing and dancing chorus

who trip through the seemingly different dancing and ensemble numbers fetichingly.

Among the many song hits that

are now being whistled throughout the country are: "Oh! You September Morn," "When a Little Boy Loves

a Little Girl," "A Sparerib from the

Butcher shop of Life," "Beautiful

Dreams I'm Dreaming," "In Paree"

"Where is the Pleasure in Wine

and Song if the Woman is Not

most pleasing in her characterization

and was a favorite with the audience.

CLEARFIELD PENNSYLVANIA, MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER, 11 1916

Memorial Meeting of Bar Association Is Largely Attended

Resolutions of Respect In Honor of Thomas Holt Murray Presented Many Able Addresses Heard

RESPECT AND HONOR FOR FINE LAWYER

The memorial meeting of the Clearfield County Bar Association incident to the death of Thomas Holt Murray, Esq., for more than thirty years the leader of this Bar was called to order in the court room at 11 o'clock by Judge Singleton Bell, who briefly stated the purpose of the assemblage.

Ex-Judge Allison O. Smith, chairman of the Committee then arose and after paying a touching personal tribute to his former law partner and friend, read the following memorial:

To the Honorable Singleton Bell, President Judge of said Court:

Your committee appointed to prepare a suitable memorial on the death of Thomas Holt Murray, a member of the Bar, beg leave to report:

Thomas Holt Murray was born on the 5th day of April, 1846 in Girard township, Clearfield county, and died on the 8th day of December, 1916 at three o'clock in the afternoon at his late residence in the borough of Clearfield.

His early life was spent on his father's farm, where he labored as did most farmers' sons of the time, on the farm and in the neighboring forest. His early education was limited to such as he could secure in the common schools of his native township. In 1863 at the age of seventeen, he entered Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport, Pa. Soon thereafter he was compelled to leave that institution on account of illness. After his return to his home he engaged in the work of the farm, in the lumber woods, and in teaching school in the common schools of his native township until the year 1864 when he re-entered Dickinson Seminary. From that institution he was graduated in the year 1877.

During his course of study at the Seminary, Mr. Murray became a student at law under the direction of General Robert Fleming of the Lycoming county bar. In the month of May, 1880, Mr. Murray entered the law office of the late Honorable H. B. Swoope, at Clearfield, where he completed his legal education. He was admitted to the bar of Clearfield county May 24, 1880.

For some years after Mr. Murray's admission to the bar he practiced law by himself. But in a few years his growing business led him to seek a partner. Accordingly in September 1874, he associated with him the late Hon. Cyrus Gordon, under the firm name of Murray and Gordon. This partnership continued until the election of Mr. Gordon to the bench in this county and his entering upon the duties of that office in January 1904. Immediately thereafter, Mr. Murray entered into a new partnership with Allison O. Smith under the firm name of Murray and Smith. This partnership continued until during the incumbency of Mr. Smith for President Judge of the courts of Clearfield county in 1903. After the retirement of Mr. Smith, Mr. Murray formed a partnership with James P. O'Laughlin and Hazard A. Murray under the firm name of Murray and O'Laughlin. This partnership was formed September 22, 1903 and continued until the death of Thomas Holt Murray, its senior member. Some years prior to his death Mr. Murray withdrew from the trial of cases, and the more active duties connected with his profession, but continued, as his failing health permitted, to act in an advisory capacity in the firm with which he was connected.

Immediately upon his admission to the bar, Mr. Murray entered actively upon the practice of his profession. His native ability, untiring industry, and great force of character soon made his place at the bar secure, and brought to him a large and growing business. At the time of his retirement from active practice, he was and for many years prior thereto had been the unquestioned leader of this bar. His qualities and attainments as a lawyer early brought to Mr. Murray professional engagements from outside of his home county, and soon he became known throughout central and western Pennsylvania and even beyond as a lawyer of consum-

Coming to the bar as he did in the days when much of the litigation in his own and neighboring counties concerned original titles to land, Mr. Murray soon acquired a skill and proficiency in the trial of ejectment cases that led to his employment in most of the larger litigation involving original titles, not only in his own county, but throughout central and northwestern Pennsylvania. He was one of the last of the great ejectment lawyers of Pennsylvania. In the forty years in which Mr. Murray was active in his profession, his experiences covered the wide range of legal business which is afforded by a country practice. He was not a specialist, and yet he was an expert in almost every department of the law. His broad, comprehensive grasp of mind, his untiring industry, his patient care, his vigorous will, his cogent reasoning, coupled with a mastery of the English language which at times made his addresses to a jury rise to the heights of real eloquence, combined to make him a leader in all departments of legal practice alike. In our appellate courts, in the United States courts, in the courts of other counties, or in our own courts, whether in a close legal argument or in a summing up before the ordinary county jury, Mr. Murray immediately attracted attention, commanded respect, and not infrequently dominated courts or courts and juries.

Mr. Murray was a public spirited citizen. He took great interest in the subject of education and many of his finest public addresses were upon educational subjects. He was the last surviving member of the school board of his home town which was in existence when our system of graded schools was established. He disliked politics as such and cared nothing for public office. Notwithstanding the great demands of his professional engagements, he early sought the lecture platform and his lectures upon educational, patriotic and religious subjects soon gained for him a reputation for learning and eloquence which extended beyond the confines of our state.

While a student of Dickinson Seminary, Mr. Murray joined the Methodist Episcopal church and from that time to the day of his death was a consistent member of that church. When he came to Clearfield in May, 1868, he became a member of the Clearfield (now Trinity) Methodist Episcopal church. In the church as in his profession he was soon recognized as a leader. In 1876 he was elected a Trustee of his church, and continued to hold that important church office to the day of his death. In 1878 he was made chairman of the Board of Trustees and held that position until 1910 when the state of his health led to his voluntary resignation. Upon joining the church he became a member of the Sunday School and was at the time of his death the oldest member of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Sunday school in point of continuous membership. In January, 1874, Mr. Murray organized the Bible Class which bears his name, and was the teacher of that Bible Class until his death.

The church of his choice has singularly honored Mr. Murray. In 1884 he was elected a lay delegate to the General conference of the church and was re-elected each quadrennium thereafter, down to and including the year 1916. He was, therefore, a member of nine successive general conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church—a record unequalled by any layman in American Methodism. In 1896 he was elected by the General Conference a member of the Commission on Federation of the Methodist Episcopal churches, north and south. The importance of that position can be realized when it is stated that the membership of that commission on the part of the Methodist Episcopal church was composed of three bishops of the church, three ministers and three laymen. Mr. Murray served on that commission for twelve years.

MAKES ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL BUT FAILS

Willis Brandon Will Now Face the Sentence of the Court On Two Charges

WAS CAUGHT IN THE ACT

Willis Brandon, of Chester Hill, who has gained more or less of a police and criminal court record during his twenty odd years of life, was halde before Judge Milligan today on a charge of attempted jail breaking preferred by Sheriff Ira C. McCloskey. Brandon and his brother were sentenced to three months in jail last Spring and when their cell was examined after their release it was found that they had been engaged in attempt to dig a hole in the wall with the idea of making their escape before their time was up.

On November 28th Willis Brandon and a Philadelphia colored man named Brant, it is alleged went up to the barn of Mike Kowalski at West Moshannon and abstracted therefrom a perfectly good halter to which was attached Mike's prize Holstein Milch cow. The halter was taken to the barn of Brandon's sister, Miss Luella Brandon, in Chester Hill, the cow going quickly with it.

On arrival there the sow was sacrificed on the altar of the high cost of living, part of the resultant beef being taken to the house and the remainder hidden under the barn floor.

When Kowalski discovered the loss of his milker he started on a gum shoe hunt for the thief or thieves. A peculiarity in the shape of the cow's hoof due to lack of proper and necessary manuring led Mike to follow her footsteps to the Brandon barn more than ten miles distant.

The cow had been butchered before the owner arrived but a part of the halter was found where Mike entered the barn. Squire Finnigan was appealed to and issuing a search warrant had the premises searched, when the remains were discovered and a warrant issued for Brandon, Brant and Luella Brandon.

Brant gave bail for his appearance at Court but the Brandons were lodged in jail.

In view of his previous action a close watch was kept on Brandon, and as a result he was caught on Friday afternoon last in digging a hole through the wall of his cell into the woman's ward with the evident expectation of making his way to liberty from there.

He was promptly transferred to another cell and the information charging jail breaking made and he will consequently be called upon to face two penitentiary charges instead of one when the next term of Criminal Court arrives.

BOGGS TOWNSHIP FARMER DEAD.

Jacob Haney, one of Boggs Township's best known citizens, passed away at his home near Stoneville Friday morning at 8:15 o'clock, aged about 70 years. The deceased was a son of the late John Haney and was born and raised in Boggs Township. He followed farming and lumbering all his life, and was an honest, industrious, upright man at all times.

He is survived by a widow, three sons and two daughters. Funeral services were held at his home Sunday afternoon at 1:30 and interment made at Stoneville cemetery.

HAVE BAGGED TWO DEER

The Woodland crowd, composed of B. F. Welch, J. S. Gilman, L. W. Gilman, A. C. Gilman, C. R. Miller, V. G. Hender-on and Dr. S. C. Mauk, who is located at Mose Legey's at the Glaub Place, killed a fine four prong buck Saturday evening, making No. 2 for this pack of mighty hunters. The general doctor was the man behind the gun when the buck was slain.

ADAMSON LAW HELD PENDING DECISION

Washington, Dec. 11.—(By United Press)—The United States Supreme court will hear argument in the Adamson eight hour law test case January 1. The court has been asked by government attorneys to expedite the case as much as possible.

The Adamson eight hour law which is to go into effect January 1, has by an agreement between the railroads and the government been held-up pending the decision of the Supreme Court.

LYDD GEORGE ILL.

London, Dec. 11.—By United Press)—Lloyd George suffered a severe chill today probably resulting from his superhuman efforts to reconstruct the government, and his physicians have ordered him not to leave his home. He wrote a letter to members of parliament telling them that he thought it hardly likely that he would be able to attend tomorrow's session. At that time the new members will formally take their place. The Premiers have been received at Buckingham Palace by King George.

One Electrocuted; Other Gets Respite

O'Brien, Friend he Killed Seven Years Old Boy Pays Penalty

Rockview, Dec. 11.—Junius Brutus Alston, of Chester County, sat safe in his cell today while Joseph W. O'Brien of Montgomery county, went to his death on the day originally appointed for both to die. O'Brien was shocked to death early today at the penitentiary.

A negro from South Carolina had been in Pennsylvania only a few months when he killed William Brown another negro, in Chester county during a quarrel last year. He was refused pardon last month, but a petition was filed with their Board of Pardons for a re-hearing so that the views of the trial judge, William Butler Jr., might be considered by the board. This led to a respite.

O'Brien was executed for the murder of 7-year-old Israel Goldman, of Philadelphia three years ago. He took the lad across the Montgomery county line and killed him without provocation, so far as evidence shows.

Methodist Want Fine Sermon Repeated

Publicly Requests That Dr. Bender Preach Series over Again

Rev. Dr. Bender pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, preached a most interesting sermon yesterday morning from Revelation, second chapter: John's letter to the church at Ephesus. Some time ago Dr. Bender preached a series of sermons, taking for his subjects, John's letters to the churches in Asia Minor, taking his texts from the first four chapters of Revelation.

Owing to the fact that the Sunday School lessons for the last three months have dealt with the life, missionary tours and the death of Saint Paul that the present Sunday school lessons deal with the letters of Saint John to the churches of Asia Minor, these sermons at this time are both timely and interesting. Because of this quite a number of Doctor Bender's congregation have requested him to repeat the series of sermons referred to. It is hoped that the Doctor will repeat the sermons.

HOUTZDALE MAN DIES SUDDENLY ON SUNDAY

D. E. Chaplin, Well Known Business Man, With Many Friends in County

D. E. Chaplin, a representative Houtzdale business man, died at the Clearfield hospital Sunday morning at 10:20 o'clock after a brief illness aged about 55 years.

Ed Chaplin was one of the best known men in the Houtzdale region and his death brought genuine sorrow to an exceptionally large circle of friends. He was a native of Canada and came to Jonesville with his family while quite young. His mother was a daughter of the late John Flynn, the pioneer of the Flynn family of lumbermen which settled in Clearfield County when the lumber industry was in its infancy.

In early life the deceased followed farming and lumbering, later taking a business course at Baltimore. On his completing the course he returned home and accepted a clerkship with the Eureka Supply Company. By his honesty, integrity and strict attention to business attained success and was soon made manager of the company's store at Fisher's near Brishin. A few years later he was advanced to the position of manager of the company's store at Ramey, which position he held until 1906 when he purchased the Frank Schlatzer distillery and moved to Houtzdale where he had since made his home.

He was a square, upright man generous to a fault, and intensely loyal to his friends. He was at the front in all movements for the betterment and upbuilding of his town and his death will be a distinct loss to that community.

About nineteen years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Catherine Gleason, eldest daughter of the late Andrew Gleason, one of the pioneer merchants of Houtzdale and to this union eight children were born six of whom with their mother survive to mourn the loss of a loving and indulgent husband and father.

The deceased was a splendid specimen of physical manhood, but almost five years ago suffered a severe attack of pleurisy and pneumonia, lying at death's door for a considerable length of time. His iron constitution pulled him through but he never fully recovered his usual health and when he suffered a second attack of pneumonia last week his condition became serious at once and he was removed to the Clearfield Hospital Wednesday. Despite the best of medical attention the ravages of the disease were unchecked and his death occurred as above stated.

The funeral will be held from St. Laurence's Catholic church at Houtzdale Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and interment will be made in the Flynn at Jonesville.

BULGARIANS CROSS DANUBE

Sophia, Dec. 11.—(By United Press)—Capture of the western bridge head at Cernavoda was announced in today's official report. The Bulgarian forces also crossed the Danube into Roumania and took the city of Kalapass—the western bridge head which was held by the Russian lines on the far side of the river and is in the Rumanian province of Baita. The eastern bridge head is in Doubudja.

J. Maloney who has been transferred to Paris, France to look after the interests of the company over there. Mr. Patterson has many friends in Clearfield who join the Progress in extending congratulations on his deserved promotion.

Villa Gives Reporter His Views On The U. S. In Interview

Makes Terse and Amazing Statements As to His Personal Opinion of Men And His Ultimate Aims and Desires

ACCUSES WILSON, PERSHING AND FUNSTON

New York, Dec. 11.—(By United Press)—"I am going to drive the Americans out of Mexico or I make them fight." This is the declaration of Pancho Villa as reported in an interview printed by the New York "Evening World" today.

Thorkey Flood Mortensen, the interviewer says he went to Villa's headquarters at Vintalu the second day of the campaign of the city of Chihuahua.

"Do you know the Mayor of El Paso," Villa asked. "Do you know what he did? Chased my wife out of the country like a common woman of the streets and took her diamonds and rings away from her. Tell that fellow that if he was a man he would come down and fight with me."

"Do you know Pershing? Pershing is violating the sacred rights of Mexico and has got to get out. I will show them poco tiempo that they cannot violate Mexican rights."

"Do you know Wilson? I was his friend, I liked him but at Aguprietia he turned traitor to me because I represented and helped Carranza—the bad man of Mexico. Is it any wonder that I chase the Americans out of Mexico?"

Asked what he intended to do he replied: "Drive them out or make them fight and after they are gone I will make a gap between the two countries so wide and deep that no Americans will ever be able to steal Mexican land, gold and oil."

The Views Of A Soldier

The following letter was received in our mail this morning. The editorial referred to in the letter was the one condemning the limitations placed upon soldiers in the matter of speech and writing. It is not to be supposed that each soldier should know the plan of his superior or the reason for his being at any particular place but that right of free speech and expression should not be abridged.

Camp Stewart, December 5, 1916.

Managing Editor, Clearfield, Progress:

Dear Sir:

I just received your issue of the 29th and was very much interested in your editorial regarding letters which you have accepted from boys on the border. My object in writing to you is to give you some idea of conditions as they exist here.

Among the enlisted men there is a deep feeling of dissatisfaction. We feel that we were brought down here thru a misrepresentation of border conditions and after five months stay we can see no reason for our detention other than political. It is an uncalled for hardship to keep thousands of men away from their families and work and cause them to be subjected to the physical discomforts of these sand swept deserts. In the past the men have not complained although conditions have been far from good, but now with the prospect of being separated from their homes at Xmas time and later being brought back in the midst of winter, it is no wonder that they are anxious to return.

It is not my purpose to knock but merely to confirm reports of the very unsatisfactory conditions that exist here.

Here is a typical border condition: El Paso, with a population of 80,000 had a hard time raising one company (80) of militia, but the other 79,935 are now having the time of their lives relieving the soldiers of $1,500,000 a month. That may be one reason the 1st regiment of S. C. infantry decorated these trains on their return home with: "We will go to hell before we will go back to El Paso."

Japan Has Crow to Pick With U. S. At The Cessation of War

Baron Sakatani Announces That Immigration Will Be Taken Up At That Time.

By Ralph H. Turner (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Tokio, Dec. 11.—Japanese approval is given here today to the statement made in America by Baron Sakatani that after the war Japan would attempt to bring about a settlement of her immigration problem with the United States.

While the Japanese have never voiced the desire to break the Gentlemen's Agreement, they feel that it is a most unsatisfactory arrangement. With the rise of Japan's power and her world commerce, the sentiment that the American ruling is discriminatory becomes stronger. The belief that a revival of the question is inevitable is expressed by the Tokio Asahi, regarded by some persons as the leading newspaper in the capital.

"Baron Sakatani only voiced the sentiment of the Japanese nation," says the Asahi in speaking of the Baron's declaration in the United States. "Why should the Japanese

SWALLOW YOUR PRIDE
At this season of the year when all are supposed to assist people intend to be solicitous of the happiness of others, it is a notable fact that we are not in contact. For one thing; the man or woman who is performing a great service and one that is appreciated by the merchants and his corps of employees. Under present conditions in our stores, particularly in the evenings, there is no earthly excuse for people carrying home under their own arm thousands of packages and parcels which they expect the merchant to deliver to them. The merchant assures you that he will be glad to deliver the purchase to your home. We do not doubt the willingness to do this but we should consider the employees who will have to work long hours to pick up the work we make them. Again, in mind the hundreds of large articles that are delivered that will have to wait their turn in a wagon or an auto truck delivers a spool of thread or a ten cent rag doll for little Mary. Your greatest Christmas service will be in being helpful to others and a realization of your own ability to help yourself and incidentally help others.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.
Senator Penrose has long been recognized as a leader of the Republican party of the nation as well of the state. He has been greatly abused by his political enemies and by some who are the enemies of the people he supposed to associate with rather than of the senator. The Tribune believes he would be a better leader if he were in a different environment, but it has always regarded him as a much abler man than his foes have been willing to admit. The time seems to have arrived when it is up to him to help or mar the future of his party in his own commonwealth.
The forces of the state are back of the candidacy of Representative Baldwin, of Delaware county for the speakership of the house. Senator Penrose is supposed to have tentatively endorsed this candidacy and has solicited his allies and friends to the support of Baldwin from Delaware county in the contest that is impending for the control of the house. It is a great happiness to learn that the senator has been so interested and that he is intending to use his great influence with the members-elect of the house for the desirable end of electing a speaker of whom they may well be proud. He could in no better way make his claim to statesmanship.—Altoona Tribune.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS
Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if bladder bothers you.
Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.
The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates thus ending bladder disorders.
Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

SANTA CLAUS TO TRAVEL IN AN AIRSHIP
Margaret Mason Tells of Conversation She Heard Between St. Nick and His Wife
MAINLY ABOUT WRISTWATCHES

By Margaret Mason
Written for the United Press.
"I'd like to bring peace as a gift to the world," said Santa, "but since that can't be, a time piece is better than no peace at all. I think every one will agree. And as every nation a wrist watch now wears, except North America silly, I'll bring every Yankee a wrist watch so he'll be timely and wear it—but will he?"

New York, Dec. 11.—"It's a funny thing to me," remarked Santa to Mrs. Claus as the two of them stood out in the hangar inspecting the new 1917 model hydroplane in which Santa Claus was to make his record 1916 world flight. "It's a funny thing to me that the United States as up to date as it is about every thing else, should be so provincial and behind the times when it comes to wearing a wrist watch."
"That's just it, Nick dear," said Mrs. Claus. "How can it help but be behind the times as long as it wears a watch in its pocket. A watch pocket is always in front of a person you know. On the other hand, a person with a wristwatch can always be a little ahead of the time by holding his hand behind him or at least in high time by slightly raising the left arm."

"Well it's all tommy rot, I say," went on Nick wrathfully. "Here's all the other best nations on the earth proud and happy to have a little tick tock on their pulse. Italy, France, Belgium, England, Russia, Switzerland, Holland, Spain, Norway, Sweden and Japan have all tried it out and know a watch on the hand is worth two in the pocket. Down in South America they watch their wrist much more closely than any watch their step. It's so much easier to see what time one revolution begins and another ends. And as for Germany the Watch on the Rhine isn't in it any more with the watch on the wrist. And in the face of all this that young whipper snapper U. S. A. that hot blooded young nation which of all others ought to keep a close watch on its pulse in these pulsing times refuses to take on a wristwatch, for the asinine reason that it considers them effeminate. Effeminate, my Grandmother! and Santa Claus began to sputter and grow purple in the face.

"For heaven's sake, Nickie, darling, don't get excited; calm yourself; soothed his better half. "You know it's time for your Christmas journey and you mustn't get your nerves all on edge. Besides if Americans are so idiotic as to prefer to go digging under their heavy overcoats in winter and delving into sweaty pockets in summer to find out the time when they might have it openfaced right on hand I don't see why you have to get all fussed up about it and let it disturb your peace of mind or your time piece either," and Mrs. Claus planned admiringly at Santa's smart new wristwatch with illuminated hands.

"You're right as always, my own, snorted Santa, fadling from a passionate purple to a deep rose madder, although he really wasn't a bit madder than he had been. "I know it's foolish of me but I just can't help getting all worked up when people are so stubborn and pigheaded about adopting the sensible and obvious thing. And I ask you what could be more obvious than a wristwatch especially one like mine with illumination hands on a dark night when it all lit up like a Christmas tree?"
"And speaking of Christmas trees reminds me, that according to my wristwatch, I'll just have time to take Dasher, Dancer, Vixen, Cupid, Dancer and Blitzen out for a trot before dinner. Poor deers they can't get half enough exercises since they don't do the Christmas run with me anymore. So long Merry (Mrs. Claus' maiden name was Merry Xmas, you know); have dinner all ready when I get back. And by the way I've just thought of a splendid scheme about those Americans. I'll take every mother's son of 'em a wristwatch for Christmas, and then of course they'll all have one on hand. Oh they'd better watch out!" and Santa Claus departed chuckling to the stable.

Miss Elizabeth Dowler who has been visiting at the home of her brother H. P. Dowler on West Market street left this evening for her home in Burnside.

There were no preaching services in the Baptist church yesterday, owing to illness of the pastor's wife who at this writing is some better.

During the past week there were 24,142 pieces of transient mail arrived and departed from the Curwensville post office. This was only an ordinary week and gives one some idea of the amount of work handled at this office.

In 1900 the General conference elected Mr. Murray, one of the delegates to the Ecumenical council, composed of all branches of Methodism, worldwide. That council met in London in September, 1901, and Mr. Murray took a leading part in the deliberations of that body. His church affiliation and connection with the great conventions of Methodism, brought to Mr. Murray a wide acquaintance, and the knowledge of his death will bring regret and sorrow to many in every part of our country. In church life and work, as in his profession, he was everywhere and at all times recognized as a leader of men.

Such in part, briefly and imperfectly presented, is the record of our brother.

In his death this bar has lost its most distinguished member; the community and state, a citizen keenly alert to its best interests, and willing to stand at all hazards, and at any sacrifice for the right as he saw the right, and the church a leader in its councils and a member who brought no reproach upon the cause of the Master whom he worshipped.

As a mark of appreciation of this distinguished lawyer, citizen and churchman, be it

Resolved, That this bar attend his funeral in a body.

Resolved further, that this memorial be spread upon the records of the court and a copy thereof duly engrossed and certified, be furnished to the family.

Respectfully submitted
HON. ALLISON O. SMITH,
HON. F. G. HARRIS,
H. B. HARTSWICK,
HON. HARRY BOULTON,
W. C. MILLER,
W. H. PATTERSON,
R. D. SWOOPPE,
A. H. WOODWARD

At the conclusion of Judge Smith's reading R. D. Swooppe, Esq., arose and spoke feelingly of his association with the deceased and paid high tribute to his ability as a lawyer.

A. H. Woodward, Esq., followed with a particularly eloquent tribute to Mr. Murray's memory, and he was followed by a long-time friend, Hon. Thos. H. Greevey, of Altoona, who was present to represent the Blair County Bar. W. C. Pentz of the local bar followed and he was followed in turn by Judge Mitchell and N. M. Edwards, of Lycoming county.

Ex-Judge Ellis L. Orvis, of Bellefonte, who with W. Harrison Walker, Esq., represented the Centre county Bar then paid his individual tribute to the man whom he styled "one of the really great lawyers of Central Pennsylvania," and then read the following resolutions, adopted by the Centre County Bar Association at a meeting held Saturday morning following the receipt of the news of Mr. Murray's death:

Resolutions of the Bar of Centre County upon the death of the Honorable Thomas H. Murray, adopted at a meeting held Saturday, December 9th 1916.

WHEREAS, the members of the bar of Centre County have just been informed of the death of that distinguished citizen and lawyer of Clearfield county, Pennsylvania, the Honorable Thomas H. Murray;

AND WHEREAS, a meeting of the said bar was immediately called for the purpose of giving expression to the grief of their sympathies and the grief of their brethren of the Clearfield county bar and the members of Mr. Murray's family;

AND WHEREAS, there Resolutions were presented by the undersigned, a committee appointed for that purpose, and were thereupon unanimously adopted.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that we desire to record our appreciation of Thomas H. Murray as a lawyer of State-wide reputation and of the highest attainments in his profession, a position which he has achieved both by reason of great natural gifts and by his mastery, through tireless study and work, both of the elementary principles of law and the reported decisions of our courts.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that we recognize in the death of Mr. Murray that the County and State have lost a citizen of the highest personal character, whose life was controlled by the principles of honor,

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

HOW THUMBELISA FLEW FAR AWAY.

THE minute Jack and Evelyn finished their bread and jelly daddy began: "There was once a sick swallow who was nursed back to joy by Thumbelisa, a tiny girl. So when a stupid old mole wanted her to marry him along came her friend, the swallow, and invited her to fly away on his back."

"Tie yourself on securely with your sash," he reminded Thumbelisa. "We may go quite swiftly. We'll fly away from your ugly old mole and his dark cavern, far away over the mountains to the warm countries where the sun shines with more splendor than it does in this cornfield. It is always summer there, and there are heaps of flowers for you to pick. Come, little Thumbelisa, fly with me. Once you saved my life when I lay half dead in a dark passageway, and now I will save you!"

"Oh, dear swallow," cried Thumbelisa; "now I will go with you!"

"So she sat down on the swallow's back with her tiny feet on its outspread wings. To its strongest feather she tied one end of her sash and the other around her own waist."

"Good!" cried the children. "Then her swallow flew up, up high in the air above the forests and lakes, high up above the biggest mountains where the snow never melts."

"Thumbelisa, shivered in the cold air, but then she crept under her swallow's warm feathers. She only stuck out her small head to look at the wonderful and beautiful sights that kept flashing below her."

"So at last they reached the warm countries. The sun shone with a warmer glow there. The skies were twice as high, and the most beautiful green and blue grapes grew on all the banks and hedgerows. Oranges and lemons hung in the woods, which were fragrant with myrtle and sweet herbs, and everywhere lovely children with dark, rich skins ran about happily, chasing big, gorgeously colored butterflies."

"More fairies!" said Jack.

"Still Thumbelisa's swallow flew on, and always the country grew more and more beautiful. Under splendid green trees on the shores of the blue sea stood a dazzling white marble palace. It had been built hundreds of years ago, and vines wreathed around its old pillars. At the head of these were countless birds' nests, and Thumbelisa's swallow had its home in one of them."

Then daddy stopped, and when the children clapped for him to please not end the bedtime story he gave them two big good night hugs.

So Jack and Evelyn clapped him.

justice and right, a leader in the work of high church, and invariably identified with all movements looking to the welfare and moral uplift of the community.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that these resolutions be recorded upon the minutes of the Bar Association of Centre County and among the records of this court, and that, if practicable, they be presented at a meeting of the Bar Association of Clearfield County, and that a copy thereof be delivered to the members of Mr. Murray's family.

Respectfully submitted,

James A. Gleason, Esq., read a letter eulogizing Mr. Murray from the pen of William H. Patterson, Esq., who is at Mt. Clemens, Mich., for his health, and following this with a touching personal tribute to the deceased. Hon. J. Frank Snyder was the last speaker. Mr. Snyder possessed the acquaintance and friendship of Mr. Murray during his entire life at the Bar and eloquently recounted the history of the struggling young lawyer as he climbed the ladder of a successful practice and wrote his name in flaming letters as the leader of his profession in Central Pennsylvania, a shining light in the church of his faith and a model high minded citizen in this community.

Judge Bell in a few well chosen sentences closed the meeting with an order directing that the proceedings of the session be spread upon the court records of the county.

The funeral of Mr. Murray took place at 2 o'clock from Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a lifelong member. The services were conducted by his pastor Rev. Dr. H. R. Bender.

The large edifice was filled to capacity by the friends and neighbors of our late distinguished fellow citizen.

The pall bearers were Hon. Singleton Bell, Hon. Allison O. Smith, R. D. Swooppe, Esq., J. Frank Snyder, Esq., A. H. Woodward, Esq., and H. B. Hartswick, Esq.

A special train over the Pennsylvania railroad from Tyrone brought many out of town people to the funeral.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the most brilliant results.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins, thus cleansing sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of the limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make any one who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

EIGHTEEN YEARS AT CORNELL

Ithaca, N. Y., Dec. 11. — John F. Moskley, generally considered to be the foremost trainer and coach of track and cross-country teams in the country, today celebrated his fifty-third birthday. Of the thirty-eight years of his life spent in raising the standard of track athletics, but as a runner and later as a coach, eighteen have been spent in the capacity of a coach. He now fills as dean of Cornell track and field athletics. Mr. Moskley's success with the Cornell cross-country teams is considered marvellous and has established a record for him which has been approached by no track coach in the world. An Open Letter to Teachers

A teacher in the public schools has a wonderful opportunity to mould the character of the children and young people. Teachers believe in temperance and teach it scientifically, not simply because it is the law, but because they want to help the child and are desirous of having their influence tell for good. I am writing to you because I believe you can be interested in the medal contest, work, a department of the State and National W. C. T. U. You have bright active boys and girls under your charge, who will be delighted to take part in these contests.

You may have the material for a future orator in your school, but this talent will lie dormant unless it is given a chance to develop.

Will you give them this opportunity? Teachers who have taken up the work, say that they have found it very beneficial.

It strengthens the memory, overcomes timidity, improves the public appearance, gives poise and grace to the bearing, and as one must thoroughly understand a subject before he can properly declaim it, his reasoning powers are brought into play, and the whole mentality is strengthened. But, aside from all this, in the selections prepared for this particular purpose, he is gradually growing to hate the saloon and its evil influences. We quote the following from a state superintendent of education:

"I desire to heartily endorse the plan of medal contests; which has been established by the W. C. T. U.
I cannot see how the plan could possibly be a detriment to school work, but can see where great good could come, not only to the pupils in the public schools, and those taking part in these contests, but in cultivating a sentiment in favor of temperance."

Will you help us in this educational work?

"SEPTEMBER MORN"

The offering at the Opera House, Thursday December 14, will be the dancing festival, "September Morn," with its wealth of song, mirth, melody, happiness and joy. The music and lyrics are by Arthur Gillespie and
the music by Aubrey Stauffer, two young men who fairly outdid themselves in this successful musical play
for there are no less than six emphatic song hits. The title chosen from the famous painting by Paul Chabas
serves its purpose in the story only
and this novel entertainment will prove a treat to theatregoers.

The story has to do with one Rudolph Plastric, amusequading as an artist and sets claim to the originator
of the famous painting. Complications arise wherein Plastric gets himself into all sorts of trouble through
the appearance of an actress, who claims to be the originator and actually was the lady who bathed in the open. There are a dozen principals
and the show goes with a hurrah,
from the rise of the curtain.

The leading comedy role is in the hands of Nimble William Moore, who has played in many Broadway successes
supported by an excellent cast and a sprightly singing and dancing chorus who trip through the seemingly different dancing and ensemble numbers fetchingly.

Among the many song hits that
are now being whistled throughout
the country are: "Oh! You September Morn," "When a Little Boy Loves
a Little Girl," "A Sparerib from the Butcher shop of Life," "Beautiful
Dreams I'm Dreaming," "In Paree"
—"Where is the Pleasure in Wine
and Song if the Woman is Not There?" etc.

"September Morn" scored a long run at La Salle Opera House (Chicago) and is making its Eastern tour in all its merry making.

What DuBois Thought of

"THE OTHER MAN'S WIFE"
From the DuBois Courier of Friday December First.

Two large crowds were well entertained yesterday afternoon and evening at the Avenue Theater by the production of "The Other Man's Wife". The story is somewhat needed in character but nevertheless interesting and held the attention of everyone. The company is a small one but well selected, and each member gave satisfaction. Miss Grace MacGregor as Vera Hampton was most pleasing in her characterization
and was a favorite with the audience.
Victor E. Lambert, as Tony Della, gave a fine interpretation of his part.
Cash Tomlinson as Ramsgate, the villain of the play was most satis-sfactory. Kary Way, as George Ramsgate gave a clean cut performance of a likeable role, while Dorothy Russell and Irving Hayes enacted their parts very well.

This show will be seen at the Opera House tomorrow evening. Seats now
